

1

2

3

4

5

6

7

8

9

10

11

12

13

14

15

16

17

18

19

20

21

22

23

24

25

26

27

28

1 Leigh Francis

2 Gianni Infantino

3 Bob Mortimer

4 Joe Wilkinson

5 Phil Collins

6 Cliff Richards

7 Vicky McClure

8 Sam Smith

9 Simon Pegg

10 Lee Mack

11 Helen Mirren

12 Grace Dent

13 Gary Numan

14 Ralph Little

15 Diane Morgan

16 Michael Fish

17 Duncan Ballentine

18 Maise Adams

19 Alex Horne

20 Nigel Farage

21 Jeffrey Dahmer

22 Ritchie Anderson

23 Luke Littler

24 Andrew Lloyd Webber

25 Martin Lewis

26 Amanda Owen

27 Dolly Parton

28 Charlie Kirk

1. Leigh Francis

A chaotic comedy performer best known for creating outrageous TV characters and fronting anarchic sketch shows that became cult favourites.

2. Gianni Infantino

A high-profile football executive who oversees the global running of the sport and frequently appears at major international tournaments.

3. Bob Mortimer

A beloved comic whose surreal storytelling and gentle oddball humour have made him a fixture of British comedy for decades.

4. Joe Wilkinson

A deadpan comedian with a scruffy, everyman charm, famous for awkward observational humour and appearances on panel shows.

5. Phil Collins

A hugely influential musician whose work as a drummer, singer, and songwriter defined an era of chart-topping pop and rock.

6. Cliff Richards

A long-standing pop entertainer with decades of hits, known for his wholesome image and enduring presence in British music.

7. Vicky McClure

A respected actor celebrated for intense, grounded performances in gritty dramas and acclaimed crime series.

8. Sam Smith

A chart-topping singer with a powerful voice and a reputation for blending pop, soul, and emotional ballads into global hits.

9. Simon Pegg

A versatile actor recognised for sharp comedic timing and memorable roles in cult films and quirky British comedies.

10. Lee Mack

A quick-witted comedian whose rapid-fire jokes and warm personality have made him a staple of panel shows and sitcoms.

11. Helen Mirren

A distinguished performer admired for commanding roles across film, stage, and television, often bringing gravitas to every part.

12. Grace Dent

A sharp-tongued food critic known for dry humour, strong opinions, and a distinctive writing style that's instantly recognisable.

13. Gary Numan

A pioneering electronic musician whose icy synth sound and futuristic aesthetic helped shape the early days of new wave.

14. Ralph Little

A familiar TV actor known for warm, relatable roles in long-running British sitcoms and gentle, character-driven comedy.

15. Diane Morgan

A comedy performer celebrated for bleak humour, deadpan delivery, and roles that mix sarcasm with understated brilliance.

16. Michael Fish

A veteran weather presenter remembered for calm forecasts, a famously incorrect storm prediction, and decades of broadcasting.

17. Duncan Ballentine

A straight-talking entrepreneur known for his no-nonsense business advice and appearances on reality shows about investment.

18. Maise Adams

A rising stand-up comic whose sharp observations, confident delivery, and fresh perspective have quickly earned widespread attention.

19. Alex Horne

A quirky comedian celebrated for inventive tasks, surreal humour, and hosting a cult-favourite show built around absurd challenges.

20. Nigel Farage

A divisive political figure known for outspoken views, headline-grabbing public appearances, and a long career in public debate.

21. Jeffrey Dahmer

A notorious criminal whose disturbing actions became the subject of documentaries, dramas, and intense public fascination.

22. Ritchie Anderson

A radio presenter known for upbeat energy, friendly banter, and a strong presence on early-morning national broadcasts.

23. Luke Littler

A teenage darts prodigy who stunned audiences with extraordinary talent, rapid success, and a fearless competitive streak.

24. Andrew Lloyd Webber

A world-famous composer whose musicals have dominated the West End and Broadway for decades, shaping modern theatre.

25. Martin Lewis

A trusted financial expert known for clear consumer advice, practical money-saving guidance, and a huge public following.

26. Amanda Owen

A Yorkshire farmer and TV personality whose storytelling about rural life and family farming has made her a household name.

27. Dolly Parton

A country music icon recognised for her powerhouse voice, prolific songwriting, and instantly recognisable style.

28. Charlie Kirk

A political commentator known for fiery rhetoric, online activism, and a strong presence in modern conservative media.